ANNUAL MEETING 1973

The 114th annual meeting of Tattersall's Club passed uneventfully with an above normal attendance.

Chairman Geoff Eastment outlined the Club's activities during the past year and expressed confidence in the future.

As with all clubs rising wages were reflected in the balance sheet. However, the Chairman assured members that although the wages bill had increased by $27,000 in the year, every effort would be made to maintain all services and amenities at the usual high standard without any increase in fees if such policy was at all possible.

Members entered in debate over a wide variety of subjects, and those participating included Norm Rogers, Lou Silk, Os Bates, Bill Sellen Jnr., Cecil O'Dea, Arthur O'Connor and Barry Gerrett, whilst auditor Harry Rowell gave enlightening advice on financial aspects.

Only one ballot was required and all office bearers and committeemen were reappointed.

The ballot for committee resulted:

* P.W. McGrath	1,518
* J.V. Comans	1,470
* A.R. McCamley	1,462
* J.P. O'Neill	1,460
* J.L. Hickey	1,406
* L.I. Tidmarsh	1,404
* J.R. McKell	1,404
* G.J.C. Moore	1,402

MEETING MESSAGES

Irrepressible Arthur O'Connor and his diminutive stature, had as usual, four questions for the Chairman. Advised to stand on a chair, Arthur was contented with the replies given, and gave the meeting an assurance that next year he would have another four questions to ask.

Norm Rogers, (without a D he pleaded), pressed and pressed for a satisfying answer to his query on Club valuations. As the third answer from different authorities came forward, he said, "That's right, that's what I thought all the time."

A unanimous tribute, led by Les Tidmarsh, was tendered the Chairman for his genial and efficient capacity in conducting the meeting. "In my service on committee, there has never been a better chairman, and there's not a decision of real import made without consultation with all committeemen."

Rejoined the Chairman, "Thanks, I've got the message. I move an adjournment to the bar and the refreshments are on the Club".

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY HONOURS

Her Majesty the Queen has graciously conferred birthday honours on the following Tattersall's Club members, to whom we extend our congratulations.

Sir Tristan Antico, Sir Leslie Hooker, Sir Clyde Kennedy, Louis Klein CBE, (community services), R.W. Auswild OBE, (services to commerce), A.J. Chown OBE, (community, services), J.H. Cooper OBE, (services to commerce), J.I. Charody MBE, (services to industry), H.R. Hayes MBE, (services to local government).

VALE ALAN HULLS

One of Sydney's best known journalists and public relations men, Alan Hulls, died at his Terrigal home recently after a long illness.

Alan began his journalistic career on Sydney's Daily Guardian in 1927 after leaving Fort Street Boys' High School. He worked on the Referee and later became sporting editor of the Daily Telegraph and Sunday Telegraph.

He enlisted in the AIF in 1940 and saw action overseas with the 2/3

AA Regt. of the 9th Division.

On returning from the Middle East, Alan served in New Guinea with the 9th Division. While there he was seconded from the Army to become a war correspondent for the Daily Telegraph.

In 1945 he was the Daily Telegraph's New York correspondent, returning to join the editorial staff of the Telegraph. Later he joined Associated Newspapers Ltd. and was acting news editor of the Sun and editor of Pix.

Alan left journalism in 1958 to become NSW manager of a prominent PR firm and in 1963 set up his own public relations company, retiring in 1971.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son, to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.

BLUE WATERS

Club yachtsman Jim Hardy will be Australia's number two skipper in the America's Cup races next year.

Jim and his family will move from Sydney to Perth soon after Christmas for five months of trials in the former America's Cup challenger Gretel II.

The Australian challenge will be made in the $1 million 12 metre yacht Australis, built in Sydney by Perth's Alan Bond and skippered by John Cuneo.

Don't go looking for Jim in the Club during the Admiral's Cup races as he will be flat out in Britain for six weeks from early August.

GOT THE MESSAGE

Brother of Committeeman John, new member is Adrian Hickey. A fast wing three quarter with Briars RU, Adrian was an all round athlete and swimmer at St. Pats, Strathfield.

He swam in the State Championships under 15, but he was not successful. The winner was Kevin Berry, subsequent Olympian.

As Adrian told of his feat, Arthur McCamley happened by and we feel that we have dimmed Adrian's immediate prospects in the swimming pool handicaps.

PART AND PARCEL

An addition to the ranks of ex-SHS members is Alan Slade. He obtained his honours degree in pharmacy at Sydney Uni and is now wholly wrapped up in plastic packaging.

A member of Leichhardt Rotary and the Business Men's Club, he is a family man with wife Anne and children Jacqueline (3) and Michael (1).

WINING, DINING, DANCING

Waverley and Tattersall's bowls entity Bob Lindsay entertained Bob Lindsay, his son that is, on the occasion of junior's 51st birthday. Young Bob is a well known medico in the Newcastle district. All hands appreciated the band's "Many Happies".

Paul and Kath Madden had large party to celebrate daughter Anne's 21st birthday. The wine flowed and merriment prevailed despite Anne's sore arm from vaccinations. These are the prelude to her visit to London and the Continent. Many happy returns Anne, and au revoir.

WHEN DO YOU RETIRE?

You do not have to be a boy to take up a new career is the belief of Laurie Naughton.

Last March, at the age of 62, he was admitted as a solicitor for the third time, having previously retired on two occasions.

In his varied career Laurie spent 30 years in the mining industry. In another period he became a "Mr. Chips". His Sydney Uni BA qualified him as a high school fourth form teacher.

In a prolonged sojourn overseas Laurie subscribed to the theory that the best view is from the inside and took a position in a leading broker's office on Wall Street, New York.

In London he again viewed the local scene being an officer with an electrical industry firm of world wide repute.

Laurie recalls that whilst at Sydney Uni in 1935 he was lock forward and vice-captain of the only inter-faculty law school team to win the football competition. Contemporaries were Judge Frank Hidden, Tom Falkingham, and the late Sam Ogg.

Laurie Naughton

Nowadays Laurie concentrates on golf. He lives next door to Pymble Golf Club, but his handicap has drifted out to 19/17. He was one of 20 Pymble players to visit Yarra Yarra over a recent holiday weekend, and who was the winner of the singles event with a fine one up? No! You missed that lead, it was a wrong steer. None other than Tattersall's Chairman Geoff Eastment was the correct answer.

Laurie's present plans, he says, extend until about 2073, and he would welcome any ideas on how to get there.

We do not think that he needs any.

BE UP

It is always pleasing to see our members figuring in the turf winning lists. One who has been recently in the prize money is Ron Codner.

Ron has always had an interest in the hotel industry, being a licensee formerly at Walcha, and now on the brokering side of the business.

A member of the AJC and STC, he is also a foundation member of the South Coogee Bowling Club. Ron recalls another good first year member of that club in the late Neville Sellwood.

When wife Joyce and Ron have any problems to unravel, they refer them to daughter Gae, B.Ec., Sydney University.

LIKE FATHER LIKE SON

Father and son combinations are not unusual in Tattersall's Club circles, but we feel that a record was achieved when Billy Sheahan as a former Attorney General moved the admission of son Terry as a solicitor in the Supreme Court of NSW in 1970.

Terry has had a brilliant academic record. At the age of 14, whilst still at school, he received one of the only two scholarships for the 4th and 5th year students awarded annually by the Bank Education Service.

Two years later in the leaving certificate at the age of 16 he was placed 180th in the State out of 25,000 starters. Terry graduated Bachelor of Arts at 19, and in another three years he was a Bachelor of Laws.

As an articled law clerk he served with a firm of which Tattersall's member Roy Turner is a partner. Terry remained in the firm as a solicitor until last October when he moved to Yass.

Last year Terry delivered the University 'Appointments' Board Careers Week lecture on the legal profession.

As we well know, father Billy, with a variety of Ministerial appointments, has been the member for Yass (1941-50), and then for Burrinjuck (since 1950) but has indicated that his present tenure will mark his retirement.

It seems only natural that son Terry should aspire to be Dad's successor.

Terry has just returned from his honeymoon in Fiji, and we wish him and his charming wife health and happiness.

OATS

Gerald (Jerry) Lynch who hails from Dalgety, down Cooma way, on his own statement was educated in the school of hard experience.

Jerry can make up a repast to satisfy a gourmet, and developed his talent during the war under military supervision at Yaralla. He claims that the first wheat in NSW was cultivated on Oatlands Golf Course where he is a member.

SOUTH EAST

David Harlem and his wife Lilian have returned from Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, Penang and Bangkok.

Although they have been to most places around the world this was their first visit to the South East.

CREDIT FOR MERIT

We are pleased to record that Joe Goldberg has had conferred on him the honour of Cavaliere Ufficiale of the Order "Al Merito della Repubblica Italiana".

When presenting the Order, Mr. Guido Natali, Consul General for Italy, said: "If Italy is today one of the principal exporters of footwear to Australia, the major part of the merit must be attributed to the efforts of Joseph Goldberg".

MAN FROM MAN

After 62 years of accident free driving Lew Maddrell decided to push his luck no further. He was 79 in March and has surrendered his driving licence which has taken him to more countries than he cares to remember.

Born on the Isle of Man, Lew is the son of a member of the House of Keys, the parliament of the self governing isle. His family name is pure Manx.

Lew's first set of wheels was a motor cycle which he bought in 1910 for $30. He frequently rode over the famous Isle of Man race course, but was too young to compete for the trophy before he came to Australia.

His first car was a 1924 Dodge and by the time he was ready for a trade-in it had clocked 100,000 miles touring the Isle of Man.

Since then Lew has been the proud owner of two Studebakers, an Auburn La Salle, a Packard Clipper, another Dodge, a Rolls, and in the last ten years, a string of Holdens.

From his final trade-in Lew made a donation to the Paraplegic and Quadriplegic Association, and said, "Although I have been accident free for 62 years I know there are many far less fortunate than myself".

A real man to man gesture by the man from Man.

NOT SO TACITURN

As is usual in most confraternities there gather together identities with similar thoughts. Their whimsicalities are appreciated and amongst the coterie endeavours are made to supersede each other's loquacity and humour.

One of these schools is a Monday "Must." Around the table is inevitably included Maurie Anderson, Jack Mann, Jack Loughnan, Bill Hannan, Bill Kirwan, Sam Block, Harry Plant, Mick Wilson, Vin Barrett, Wally Hutchinson and Leo O'Sullivan.

Throughout his successful career as a trainer his nil disclosures to the media earned Leo O'Sullivan the appendage of "Silent Leo".

And leader of our animated gathering is the not so silent Leo. He stimulates any topic under the sun and always has a story to hold the interest of this band of good fellows.

This one Leo attributes to our friend Jim McDougall.

A chap was staying in a motel during a brief seminar sojourn away from home. At breakfast he addressed the waitress, "I would like a couple of fried eggs, one burned all around the edges, the other I would like underdone and running; one piece of ham burned almost to charcoal; a couple of pieces of soggy toast and cold coffee."

The girl: "I'm sorry, sir, we couldn't do that."

Said he, "Why not? You did it yesterday."

STUD STRATEGY

When you read in the race books the part-owners of Fleet Royal, Fleet Endeavour, Devil's Number, Miss Velez or Rifted Cloud, you will recognise Ben Chechik.

Ben recently visited the USA for the dispersal sale of Winchester Farm, Kentucky, and bought four young Australian-bred broodmares and a yearling filly. Most came originally from the famous Barramul Stud in the Widden Valley.

He will have the mares mated with the top US stallions to Australian time (in September). Ben will then have them shipped to England to serve quarantine for six months and have them back in Australia in time to foal in spring next year.

One mare, Content II, (Pipe of Peace-Chicola) is due to foal in June to top US stallion Candy Spots.

Ben said with a smile, "I've already picked out a name. If it's a colt - Lollypop, or Hundreds and Thousands".

PERSONALITY OF THE MONTH

VIV CHALWIN

Vivian James Chalwin, having twice visited Australia when managing director of a large British engineering group, arrived to live permanently in Australia in 1951.

Born and educated in England, he was a schoolboy triple "blue", "Victor Lodorum" (best all-round athlete), junior swimming and tennis champion, successful gymnast and fencer, and had the distinction of representing All-England public schools at cricket, soccer and boxing.

He later played senior club and county cricket and soccer as an amateur for Leeds United, Notts County, Hull City, Yorkshire Amateurs, and Sutton United, winning several medals and trophies.

He also raced motor cars with some success and is a life member of the British Automobile Racing Club.

Viv retired as one of England's youngest leading industrialists and decided to leave the "too many chasing too little" atmosphere of Britain and Europe to settle in Sydney.

He was soon integrated into the sports scene, and accompanied the 1952 Australian Olympic team to Helsinki.

Then, as president of the Australian Sporting Car Club, he helped to open up an interest in remote parts of Australia with the 1953/56 around Australia Redex and Ampol trials.

In the early 50's Viv helped to found New Australian soccer clubs and played first division State league. He was appointed State soccer coach and then national coach in 1954. He organised Australia's return to the world soccer body, FIFA, in 1963.

For some 12 years Viv was vice-president of the NSW Amateur Swimming Association and had a spell as honorary general superintendent of the Learn to Swim campaign. For the last four years he has been president of the NSW Amateur Water Polo Association, during which time the State team has won the Australian championships on three occasions. A special meeting changed the rule to allow him to remain as president for more than the three year term.

In May 1971 Viv toured Britain and Europe with Australia's successful swimming team, and as he says, "I was able to 'show off' my French, German and Italian to considerable advantage". He also speaks Spanish and Russian.

Viv considers six years as a part time student at Sydney University to be a memorable time in his life. He obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1971. During that period he was for three years president of the Sydney University Sports Union, and responsible for building a large recreation hall, together with other sports facilities, and in obtaining approval to put in a 50 metre covered and heated swimming pool.

He follows Rugby Union and has been vice president of the Sydney University Union Club for the past ten years.

Whilst at university, he represented at four Australian intervarsity soccer competitions and was a playing member of the winning team on two occasions.

Viv has attended all the Olympic Games since 1952, was an official at the Games in Melbourne in 1956, and has managed many Australian teams overseas in a variety of sports.

In 1968, after 12 years as vice president, Viv succeeded Sir Charles Moses as president of the Amateur Athletics Association of NSW, and has spearheaded a campaign for better amenities for all sports both in Sydney, New South Wales and Australia. He considers that we have the worst sports facilities in the world.

Viv recently offered an interest free loan to the Sydney City Council to put in a Tartan-type running track and carry out ground improvements to the Sydney Athletic Field.

In 1971 Viv was honoured when the USA elected him as a member of the board of directors of the International Swimming Hall of Fame, and he was instrumental in arranging for Dawn Fraser, together with other famous Australian swimmers, to be specially honoured in December last.

He is a vice president and life governor of the Royal Life Saving Society and a member of Sydney Rotary.

In an attempt to help re-establish the Australian film industry, Viv recently financed the production, with the Australian Broadcasting Commission, of a pilot film in colour of a series entitled "The Lady and the Law". The film has been televised throughout Australia, and was very well received.

Successful in the business world, few can match Viv's unbounded enthusiasm for such a heterogeneous variety of sports and activities.

SWIMMING NOTES by Sam Block

Headlines from the pool during May were the thrilling tussle between Philip Moses and Russell Debney in the closing stages of the Native Son Trophy, and former Olympian Bill Butchart's excellent point score victory.

The tussle between Philip Moses who leads Russell Debney by three and a half points in the Native Son looks like being a neck and neck struggle over the final four events. For the remaining places Michael Frawley, Jim Comans, Norm Rogers, Nick Heath and Col Bowes will be staging a grand stand finish as only a few points separate the five contestants.

It was unfortunate that Roger Farrell, who was in the lead with six events to be concluded, had to leave for London where he will spend the next couple of years. (Roger was club champion in 1970 and 1971 and one of our keenest members). Bad luck Roger, but will be looking forward to seeing you back in the swim for the 1975/76 season.

Another of our members, Bruce Watson, has deserted these shores and will be stationed in New Guinea for a few years. Bruce swam so well at his last appearance that the handicapper docked him two seconds - maybe that is the reason he has left us, but we hope to see him on his return.

Norm Rogers is another whose point score would have been much closer had he not missed several events owing to being overseas. Norm took out the honours in 1961 and 1964.

Bill Butchart had the June point score all sewn up prior to the Thursday finals, striking a real patch of form in winning two finals and gaining second place in the others with a total of 28½ points from Col Bowes on 26, followed by Bill Rowe 25, with Michael Frawley and John Goodyear dead heating for fourth place on 24 points.

John is a real find, he has improved his handicap from 25 and 21 and that's an excellent performance.

Terry Gathercole, who has just returned from USA where he has been coaching for the past five years, showed that he had lost none of his speed by swimming a smart 40 yards. Terry renewed a hearty welcome back to the fold.

Those who were docked a second during the month were M. O'Dea, I. Ross, W. Butchart, D. Bruce, I. McCallum, J. Goodyear, P. Burrows

C. Bowes, M. Frawley, T. Patterson, W. Rowe.

Fastest winning times were M. McCormack, 20.2, P. King 20.6, I. Ross 21, N. Heath 21.1, B. Cox 21.5 and 21.9, and J. Goodyear 21.8.

By the time these notes appear in print the club championship will have been swum and won on 3rd and 5th July. Bryan Mortensen holds the title, but he will need to be at his best if one can judge by the sparkling near 19 seconds swims of quite a number of the stars.

Noticed one of our greats of the early 1930s in the person of George Watson visiting the Third Floor for his swim and massage. We well remember "GJW" winning the billiards handicap from Bill Longworth around 1933. The scores at one stage were 185 to 184 in favour of "GJW" and the bookie boys were betting 10/1 on Longworth, but "GJW" put his head down and never let up and ran out an easy winner.

TATTERSALL'S CLUB SPRING RACE MEETING

RANDWICK RACECOURSE

SATURDAY, 8th SEPTEMBER, 1973

Principal races: The Tramway Handicap
 The Chelmsford Stakes
 The James Barnes Plate

TATTERSALL'S CLUB SKI CLUB

We were all disappointed when the Ski Club's dinner dance had to be postponed because of the power dispute. There was no alternative and the committee has decided to hold the function at the end of the season. The date has not been finalised yet, but members will be notified accordingly.

For the long weekend at Perisher we have made similar arrangements to last year. It will be a package deal and will include return travel by coach, dinner, bed and breakfast accommodation at the Sundeck, either lift tickets or ski hire, and two lessons. More about that in the near future.

For those interested in the Aspen trip here are the details of the itinerary.

January 4: Depart Sydney early evening for Los Angeles. We cross the international date line thus gaining a day.

January 5: Depart Los Angeles arriving at Grand Junction about mid-day. An air conditioned coach takes us on our two hour drive to Aspen through some magnificent countryside.

January 6-11: During our stay in Aspen we ski the Sundeck and Silver Bell trails. We have an excursion to Snowmass to try the Big Burn, a half mile wide open slope. We also try nearby Buttermilk/Tiehack.

January 12: We leave Aspen and travel by coach to Vail, passing the famous Glenwood hot springs.

January 13-18: Here at Vail we glide through mid-winter powder snow and enjoy an exciting run down the two mile long Simba slope. The back bowls of Vail are pure magic.

January 19: Depart Vail by coach for Denver airport for flight to Salt Lake City, then on to Snowbird.

January 20-23: During our time in Snowbird we ski in the breath-taking Cottonwood Canyon and in Alta in the heart of the Wasatch National Forest. Highlights of our stay here will be a cable car ride up to Snowbird's Hidden Peak (11,000 feet) and our descent down any one of the many trails; skiing the powder snow paradise of Alta; and a cocktail party on our last evening in Snowbird.

January 24: We leave Snowbird for Salt Lake City where we take the flight to Las Vegas. We have a night in Las Vegas where we can try the casinos or take in a live show.

January 25: After a free morning we leave for Los Angeles where our coach transfers us to Hollywood.

January 26: Today is spent in the magical make-believe world of Disneyland. We depart Los Angeles that night for our return trip crossing the date line en route.

Included in the tour price of $1275 is first class accommodation on a bed and breakfast basis, air/coach travel, miscellaneous charges such as airport taxes, tips, sightseeing, etc., lift tickets, and most important of all — ski instruction. In each case our hotels are situated adjacent to the base of the lifts.

Most have the atmosphere of a lodge complete with open fires plus the luxuries of heated swimming pools and colour television. The rooms are large and all have private facilities.

Apart from skiing in ideal conditions, I was much impressed by the fact that one seldom had long to wait for the ski lifts.

The alteration in dates is brought about by an invitation to amalgamate our tour with a group which operates these tours annually, with a great deal of success. This of course ensures that our club will obtain the reduced group fares, as well as the all important ski instruction. Our original price incorporated the anticipated reduced fare but only recently this was rejected by the American Government. However, should this be approved in the meantime then a refund would apply.

We are happy to say that this tour has been received with great enthusiasm, and already bookings are being received. This tour is open to members and their friends, and anyone interested is asked to contact Jan Banner who can give you further details.

BOWLING NOTES

by Fred Empson

It has been a rather quiet month in the bowling section with only our Thursday trophy games to report.

On May 24th at Double Bay, the winners were Sol Green, Wal Schumacher, and Allan Walker.

31st May at Warringah, winners were Hymie Owen, Ron Darch and John McKell. Also Fuzz Porter, Bert Crittenden and Norm Wallace.

7th June at City, Ken Williams, Bill Hetherington and Nick Solomon.

On 14th June at Double Bay, we combined with that club in a Rotary day, and trophy winners were Mick Symonds, B. Heath and Harold Hill.

The club's singles championship is down to the last eight. Among those still in are Bill West, Harold Hill, Ron Relton who plays Mick Greenberg and John McKell who plays Len Burke.

The Gordon Booth triples has reached the semi-finals, so it should not be long before we have a result in this event. It was the wish of the committee that we should have these matches finalised prior to the annual meeting, but it seems difficult to get players together.

In the past Ron Storey has done a good job in this regard, but owing to his recent illness the games have dragged on. Ron, by the way, is progressing very well and hopes to be bowling again in the very near future.

Congratulations to Peter McGrath our honorary secretary, who topped the poll for the second time in Tattersall's recent election.

President "Fuzz" Porter – 'Ows that!

Gordon Booth and Clarie Small relax at Double Bay

A 15-foot putt on the very last green won Tattersall's fourball competition at Pennant Hills.

That's what Bill Kelso and Lex Carruthers required, and down went the all-important putt for a 45 point total and a one point victory.

Bill managed two four-pointers on the way around and Lex a tidy individual effort of 39 points, so it was quite a team performance.

The pair won by a shot from committeeman Kevin McCann and Bill Sinclair, whose 44 points bettered Alan Rogers and Les Keeler on a countback.

Then came John Grattan and Clive Allen with 43, followed by John Gonzales and Graham Ireland and Denis Magoffin and Paul Murray with 42.

It was a glorious golfing day, the right nip in the air and Pennant Hills groomed to perfection as usual.

Kevin Kingsell's 41 points was a runaway winner in the members' individual, with Jim Doyle the runner-up on 38 and Phil Leslie next on 37.

Clive Allen of the New South Wales club produced a winning score of 40 for the visitors' individual trophy.

Kevin's 41 won him the sweepstake dividend that must have financed a most pleasant golfing day.

Our next day is at Concord on Thursday, August 9th.

Reminder: Ladies' Night, 11th September, and the mixed weekend at Moss Vale on 12th October.

BILLIARDS and SNOOKER

by Arthur Miller

This year's snooker tournament has created a lively interest amongst our members. The entries were greater and the Calcutta sweep has augmented the prize pool to $3000 - a year of all records being broken.

The first round is now being played and already some of the favoured players have suffered defeat.

Jack Mahoney, who recently won a tournament in a kindred club, was soundly beaten by Bill Henneberry whose prospects of winning many more heats appear to be very bright. Jack, who is an excellent potter, played below his true form, missing a couple of easy blacks in the vital stages.

Another thrilling match was the one between David Dind and Ken Upton. David won on the black ball (the handicapper's delight). Ken, who needed two snookers and all the colours to win, fought back so well that it became a black ball finish. The climax came when David non-chantly potted the black which looked to be safe hugging the cushion, so ended a great tussle.

Peter Dind, runner up in last year's tourney, had to fight hard to beat John McSweeney on the black ball. John is young and has a bright future and we can be looking forward to great improvement in coming years.

Phil Darby, one of the younger brigade, gave warning of his prospects for the finals. His devastating win over that good player, Barry Doyle, is a pointer that the oldies are not going to have it all their way in this year's tournament.
